How we can help

We work with young people aged 25 years and under who are pregnant or parenting and their children to identify hopes and goals for the future.

We can help with:

- parenting information, skills and strategies
- housing and household management
- children's development and behaviour
- relationships, family communication and family conflict
- managing family finances
- access to local services and activities

Our service is voluntary and free. We will work with you for up to 12 months and can work from your home, in the community or from our office.

Programs

Young Parents

Community Connections group

A play space for parents and children to socialise, play & learn.

Young Families

Purposeful Parenting

(4 week information sessions)

A space for young parents to gain support for their parenting goals, through information sharing, hands on activities/resource making and cooking.

BURRABILLY

Burrabilly works with Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander families and children to help them manage life's ups and downs and live safe, thriving, happy and healthy lives.

Step by Step is funded by the Australian Government Department of Social Services.
Visit www.dss.gov.au for more information.

Counselling

We offer counselling for mums, dads, children, and individuals.

We help with:

- parenting
- relationships
- domestic and family violence (this service is offered to victims only)

Feedback and complaints

YFS treat all complaints seriously, promptly and fairly. We want your family to receive the best possible service.
