

Safeguarding Framework

YFS recognise the reality that both children and adults are at risk of abuse, neglect and exploitation in our society, and that risk is amplified for people experiencing vulnerability. Further, we recognise that without intervention and attention, children and adults may be exposed to the risks of abuse, neglect, and exploitation through our work. That is why we have developed our Safeguarding Framework to inspire and guide our people to work and behave in ways which keep all people safe and uphold their basic human rights.

Our Statement of Commitment

YFS Ltd is committed to ensuring the safety and wellbeing of children and young people. Our commitment is aligned to and guided by the National Principles for Child Safe Organisations. YFS Ltd is committed to ensuring the safety and wellbeing of adults including adults affected by vulnerability.

YFS has a zero tolerance of child abuse, and all allegations and safety concerns will be treated very seriously and consistently as per our policies and procedures.

In line with our legal and moral obligations to children, young people, and adults, we will contact relevant authorities when are concerned about a person's safety.

We are committed to preventing abuse and identifying risks early, and removing and reducing these risks consistent with our Safeguarding Framework.

We are committed to safe recruitment procedures, and regularly training and educating our staff on child abuse risks, and risks affecting adults.

We are committed to providing a culturally safe environment for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, people from culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds, and to providing a safe and accessible environment for people with a disability.

YFS has specific policies, procedures and training in place that support our staff to achieve these commitments.

- Management plans are implemented where risks are identified

Embracing diversity

- We have a Dignity and Diversity Statement
- Our people receive training and information about engaging people from diverse backgrounds

E-Safety

- We have processes in place to manage sensitive information about our service users
- Our people receive guidance about expected standards of conduct in online environments
- We provide information to our service users about e-safety

Confidentiality

- We keep personal information private
- We ensure that service users are made aware of when and how we need to share confidential information

OUR RESPONSES

We proactively mitigate and minimise the risk of harm as much as possible. If we suspect someone has been harmed, we respond immediately and act to keep people safe.

Actively looking for risks to safety

- Programs are risk-assessed and identified risks are mitigated or managed
- Feedback and concerns are actively sought from our service users
- Staff and volunteers are trained in identifying and responding to risks

Taking disclosure seriously

- We have zero tolerance for inaction on safeguarding concerns
- Our people are trained on how to receive disclosures
- We take a survivor-centred approach to responding to disclosure
- Our staff are empowered to act to keep people safe

Zero tolerance to inaction

- Our zero tolerance to inaction approach means that once we become aware of safeguarding risks or concerns it is not acceptable for our people to fail to take action to keep our service users safe. This does not mean that nothing will ever go wrong at YFS, but it means that it is never acceptable for our people to not do everything within their control to respond effectively to the situation in a way the priorities the safety and wellbeing of the people involved.
